Citizens of Alachua County:

In an effort to better communicate the County's financial picture we are providing this Citizen's Financial Report. In this report we have summarized and compiled information from various sources. The information in this report is produced by the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Finance and Accounting Department and has not been audited by the County's independent audit firm.

The County's audited Financial Statements which are presented in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) are contained in the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) for 2000. The financial information contained in the Citizen’s Financial Report is also presented on a GAAP basis.

The Audit Report and CAFR are available on request from the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Finance and Accounting Department, 4th Floor, 12 Southeast First Street, Gainesville, Florida. A copy of the Audit Report and Comprehensive Annual Financial Report is also available at the Public Library.

The financial information found throughout this report (unless otherwise noted) includes all funds and fund types of the County (including Constitutional Officers). Transfers, debt proceeds and debt restructuring expenditures have been excluded. In addition, this financial information excludes the Library District, the Murphree Law Library, and the Alachua County Housing Finance Authority.

We hope that this information will help you understand your government's finances more clearly. Thank you for your interest.

ALACHUA COUNTY 2000

THE COUNTY

Alachua County was established by an Act of the Florida Legislature in 1824 when Duval County was split to form Alachua, Duval and Nassau Counties. Subsequent legislatures further divided Alachua County to establish Levy, Gilchrist, Marion, Putnam and Clay Counties. Since the 1920's, Alachua County has contained approximately 965 square miles.

The County, as used in this report, includes the operations (including proprietary funds) of the Board of County Commissioners, Supervisor of Elections, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Sheriff, Tax Collector, and Property Appraiser. The operations of the separate independent Library Taxing District are excluded from this report.

FORM OF GOVERNMENT

The County has a charter government structure approved by referendum of the electors pursuant to the Constitution and laws of the State of Florida. The County's Home Rule Charter became effective on January 1, 1987.

The County operates under the County Manager form of government with a board comprised of five elected members. In addition, there are five constitutional officers who are separately elected, including the Clerk of the Circuit Court, Sheriff, Tax Collector, Property Appraiser, and the Supervisor of Elections.

REPORTING ACHIEVEMENT

In order to receive an Award for Outstanding Achievement in Popular Annual Financial Reporting, a government unit must publish a Popular Annual Financial Report, whose contents conform to program standards of creativity, presentation, understandability and reader appeal.

An Award for Outstanding Achievement in Popular Annual Financial Reporting is valid for a period of one year only. We believe our current report continues to conform to the Popular Annual Financial Reporting requirements, and we are submitting it to GFOA.

ECONOMIC CONDITION AND OUTLOOK

Alachua County is a major educational and health care center with a number of associated firms and industries. The County has a population of approximately 216,249 and an unemployment rate of 1.7%. The stability of the County economy is attributable mainly to the University of Florida and the other governmental employers in the area.

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK

The future economic outlook appears to be consistent with recent trends of moderate growth and an essentially stable economy. The economic ups and downs of the State of Florida are expected to have a negligible effect on the County. Expansions of both educational and health care facilities continue at approximately the same rate as the past five years.
DEMOGRAPHICS / ECONOMIC INFORMATION

It is necessary to look at the County in the context of its environment to understand the County's financial position. The next two pages contain graphs and discussion about the County's economic and demographic environment.

Alachua County’s population is increasing at a slow, steady rate. The growth is fairly evenly spread through all age groups and jurisdictions. The largest segment of the population continues to be the 25 to 64 age group. This means that the majority of the County’s residents are in their prime earning years. The population growth is primarily from migration from other areas rather than from natural growth due to births. This is similar to the population increases in the State of Florida as a whole.
These two graphs show a ten-year history of the amount of personal income per person in Alachua County, the State of Florida, and the United States. The Constant Dollar graph provides the amount of individual personal income in 1982 dollars. That is, it removes the effects of inflation from 1982 to the present. This shows the true income growth in real (or constant) dollars. The Nominal Dollar graph provides the amount of individual personal income in actual, current year amounts. This includes actual growth in income as well as inflation. In constant dollars, the County’s per capita income is approximately $1,250 less than that of the State and the Nation.
Business activity and the employment base show a positive trend with slowly increasing numbers of jobs. Alachua County’s unemployment rate has decreased since 1993 and is consistently below that of both the State and the Nation.

The graph showing "total taxable value" reflects an essentially flat total taxable value from 1991 to 1993. In constant dollar terms there was effectively no growth in taxable value until 1994. The total taxable value has continued to increase for the past seven fiscal years. The 1994 increase was due to a one time reassessment of all residential properties and the 1995 increase was influenced by reassessment of commercial property. Increases since 1996 reflect a combination of growth and increase in value.
