Shall hearts upon whose tablet there are traced Records of enmity with fellow men Presume to bring their gifts while yet the breach With brothren is unhealed, and be approved? Ask the unhallowed sacrifice of Cain. Or vows of Godly love from seeming lips E'er reach the throne on high, if from the heart No contrite murmur breaks? "Lord is it I?" The cursed traitor ask'd, and on the earth Who, save the Lord, could say his soul spoke not Until the loathesome kiss called from on high The mingled wrath of heaven's countless hosts.

Lay not upon the stripling's unnerved frame The heavy mail of manhood, lest it crush His untried strength, and banish from his arm The power to wield unerringly his sling. Nor place upon the foes of Christ the badge Of fellowship with him before they know The pangs imparted by the crown of thorns, And the burden also of the heavy cross, Which must be borne, before the fadeless wreath Can be attained, to prove them of His flock. Who will wage war 'gainst sin before he knows The strength which he can lead? or warring fall To be the mock of foes for boasting strength Which was not his? Who shell record God's hill? He whose hands are washed from the stains of earth,

Whose heart made pure by the Redeemer's blood Loads willing footsteps thither seeking rest. Although the thunders of the Mount have ceased,

And, in their stead, the Savior's pleading tones Fall in sweet strains upon the ear of faith That listens at his altar, yet the same God Speaks there, and doubly sinful they who hear The pleading invitation and come not. But draw not near until the dust of sin Is shaken from thy feet, and the pure folds Of prayer have wrap'd thy heart in garment fit To be worn by his guests, lest like the tree Whose ungrateful branches held no fauit, Thy heart should wither 'neath a blighting curse.

As the plant can yield no fragrance till the

By genial ray expands the blossom's leaves, And the soft dewidistils within its breast, E'en so the heart can no pure offering give Till gentle rays of love doth reach its depths. Then may its incense rise, like the sweet breath Of flowers to the sky.

Ry Ear Diseases.—Deafness Radically Cured.—Dr. LE BRUNN offers to those suffering from Deafness, his infallible AURAL REMEDIES, which have been successful in nearly three thousand cases of confirmed Deafness. These remedies have been pronounced by Dr. Kramer, of Berlin, Itard and Deleau, of Paris, and Curtis, Pilcher, Yearsby, of London, as the most wonderful and effectual ever applied for diseases of the internal and middle car. They comprise three different courses for the various diseases that effect the external, middle, and Internal ear. If the disease is confined to the external car, their affects are apparent on the fifth or sixth day. Dr. Le B. warrants a cure in every case, where the year is perfect in its formation. He has eighteen certificates from those who had been deaf from infancy, whose hearing is now completely restored, and who are now enabled to learn the language. Over twenty-seven hundred cases of Deafness have been successfully headed by him. Certificates to that effect may be seen on application.
